

Sinclair Broadcast Group's recent actions have illustrated the damage that is done when huge companies control the airwaves.

When a broadcast company uses the public airwaves free of charge, it is obligated by law to serve the public interest. Programming that is based on bias should be labeled such and not advertised as "news". Facts should be reported fairly and completely, with the ultimate purpose of educating the public.

Sinclair's actions show why we need to strengthen media ownership rules, not weaken them. Certainly when the FCC is so up in arms about a bared breast, they could be at least as concerned about neutrality and fairness in that which is labeled as news. Thank you.
